TEX-MED ALLIANCES

The Project TEX-MED ALLIANCES is launching four Framework Initiatives to help Mediterranean micro, small and medium enterprises (including start-ups) and other support organizations of the Textile and Clothing sector to recover after the Covid-19 emergency.

The Initiatives will provide both consultancy services and financial resources for developing new business opportunities through Cross-Border Alliances among Mediterranean enterprises and other economic actors.

Fashion Restart Framework initiative concerns the fashion/apparel sector. Covid-19 pandemic is forcing the restructuring of the industry the global level: large retailers are closing many outlets; on-line sales are soaring and consumers are changing their behaviour. This Initiative aims at identifying innovative business models by the development of alliances among manufacturers, designers and retailers for the development of new collections fit for the Mediterranean markets. The idea is to launch collections designed by having in mind the climate, the colours and the culture of the Mediterranean.

Fashion Restart encompasses four Specific initiatives:

- Local Regional Brands, to create alliances between small producers and small retailers, where local designers/product developers will play a catalyst role.
- Fashion Hubs Network, to provide fashion trends forecasting tools and develop specific training courses and presentations.
- Technical Textiles for Mediterranean, to promote the use of technical textile to create comfortable summer wear garments.
- New Memo, to drive the successful business models into a new shared brand characterized by top design, high comfort, natural/recycled materials and sustainable processes.
